BIGGEST HOTEL IN ALL WORLD WILL BE BUILT

By the Pennsylvania Railroad Company Opposite Its New York Passenger Station.

(SPECIAL TO THE TELEGRAM)
NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Directly opposite its monumental passenger station in New York City, the Pennsylvania railroad system will begin laying the foundation for what is going to be the most gigantic hotel in the world.

The hotel will be surrounded by a net work of transportation lines which will make it the most accessible location in the city of New York, as well as the most convenient to theaters, store and the business district. Hotel Pennsylvania—the name the hotel will bear—will be linked with the Pennsylvania station by means of an underground passageway for the use of the patrons of the hotel and the Pennsylvania, Long Island, Southern, Seaboard Air Line, Atlantic Coast Line and Chesapeake and Ohio railroads, whose trains enter and leave the terminal daily.

The hotel will also be connected with the important express station on the Seventh Avenue subway, between Thirty-second and Thirty-fourth streets, now nearing completion, and will be in a stone's throw of the Metropolitan, the Sixth Avenue elevated and the new Broadway subway.

With further reference to the ideal location of the Hotel Pennsylvania from the travelers' point of view, attention is called to the fact that there will be direct passenger service between Pennsylvania station and New England, via the New York Connecting Railroad Company's new East river bridge, in addition to the present service via the Pennsylvania railroad to all Long Island points, so that guests can then travel in all directions, inside or outside the city, without going from under shelter, or by taxicabs or other vehicles.

The site on which this titanic hotel is to be erected has a frontage of 200 feet on Seventh Avenue and 400 feet on Thirty-second and Thirty-third streets. The structure will be set back fifteen feet with the building line of Seventh Avenue to widen the street between the hotel and station. As the depot is now set back twenty-one feet along the building line of Seventh Avenue, this will give a street width in front of the hotel of 136 feet, or thirty-six feet wider than Fifth Avenue.

Messrs. McKim, Meade and White, the architects who designed the Pennsylvania station in New York, have prepared the plans for the hotel. The building will be constructed by the George A. Fuller Company, which firm built the Pennsylvania station. Thus harmony of design and construction with that beautiful terminal is insured. Ample courts, exceeding forty feet in width, the longer ones facing the South, will provide sunshine and the benefits of the prevailing southerly winds to most of the rooms.

As the Pennsylvania station does not rise above the first bedroom floor, the Hotel Pennsylvania will be exceptionally favored for sunshine and air. Provision is being made for open-air dining rooms in the summer on the roof, facing Seventh Avenue and the Hudson river. Large rooms will be provided for meetings, conventions and other public gatherings. The hotel will have twelve large passenger elevators, in one bank, all opening from one corridor; convenient and rapid room-service to all the rooms will be insured by a separate bank of nine service elevators.

END OF WAR TO BRING CHANGES

In the Educational System of Italy Says the Minister of Public Instruction.

ROME, Italy, Dec. 19.—Some changes in the Italian educational system after the war are proposed by the minister of public instruction, Leonardo Bianchi, himself a former professor who says that the public school and university must be readjusted to the life of the nation. "Let us hope," he says, "that the war will bring us a clearer national conscience and a more proper conception of the application of science to education."

In the past the university has been used too exclusively for purely professional careers, without taking account of the vast growing activities of humanity. The future of the world lies along material lines, and these universities must do their share in industrializing science.

One immediate necessity is that of suppressing examinations, which have always had a tendency to destroy, to dull, the ends of higher study, to make them too formal. Universities must also become character-builders, must teach that intelligence without ideas of duty of personal perseverance and energy, is useless. In the new world, during the present evolution of science and industry, it is clearer that the quality of character has assumed a preponderating importance.

Likewise, in the public schools one of our tasks will be to teach that in

Knocks Obsolete Coughs in a Hurry

A Simple Home-Made Remedy that Gets at the Cause.

Thousands of people normally healthy in every other respect, are annoyed with a persistent hang-over cough year after year, disturbing their sleep and making life disagreeable. It's so needless—there's an old home-made remedy that will end such a cough easily and quickly.

Get from any drugist "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" (50 cents worth), pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Begin taking it at once. Gradually but surely you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether, thus ending a cough that you never thought would end. It also promptly loosens a dry or tight cough, stops the troublesome throat tickle, soothes the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes, and relief comes almost immediately. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better. It tastes pleasant and keeps perfectly.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway spruce extract, combined with guaiaacal and is used by millions of people every year for throat and chest colds with splendid results.

To avoid disappointment, ask your drugist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

CALL FOR MUNICIPAL CONVENTION

There will be a mass meeting of the voters of the Town of Broad Oaks, West Virginia, held at the Council Chamber in said town, on Wednesday evening, December 20th, 1916, at 7:30 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of nominating candidates for municipal offices on the Citizens Party ticket, same to be voted for at the election to be held January 7, 1917.

TRIALS OF THE BARBER

(By a Clarksburg Barber.)

Suppose you were a barber and had to work long hours and when everybody else was going to ball games and circus shows and there you are to stand pined up all day to let the public worry you to death. Will you please have some sympathy for the barber?

It's like this: One man will come in and say: "I want a shave in two minutes and I want them close. My face is tender. Watch out for a nick on this side and my lips are chapped, and I am in a hurry." And after he gets shaved he has time to pick up a paper and look it over and tell a few disinteresting stories before he goes away.

The next man will say: "Can you shave me?" Does he think the barber is a barber or a blacksmith? Another will come in and say: "Am I next?" If the shop is full of waiting patrons. Some will say: "Get 'em close pard," and "I want to snooze a little bit while you shave me." Some will want a close shave and some will curse you if you shave them close, especially on Saturday night, when the barber is so tired he can hardly stand on his feet. This man will run in with a cheerful face and want this and that and expect a good job at the twelfth hour when the barber is worked down as well as his razors, especially on Saturday night, when the barber is so tired he can hardly stand on his feet. This man will run in with a cheerful face and want this and that and expect a good job at the twelfth hour when the barber is worked down as well as his razors, especially on Saturday night, when the barber is so tired he can hardly stand on his feet.

What I want to explain is this: No barber wants to make a man like this. If the razor does not cut just like it ought to, the barber can tell it and I am sure he will do the best he can for you and if you get cranky about it that get the barber's nerve wrong and only makes it worse.

Saturday is no day to bring or send your children to get a hair cut as you have plenty of time to do this through the other five days of the week.

Peel off Your Rough Skin

To remove roughness, chaps or any complexion difficulty, the best thing to do is to remove the skin itself. This is easily and harmlessly done by the application of ordinary mercurized wax. The wax peels off the defective outer skin, a little each day, gradually bringing the second layer of skin to view. The new skin is beautifully soft, clear, white and young looking. Just procure an ounce of mercurized wax at any drug store and use like cold cream.
